

Canada Gets Better with Age, says Leading Provider of Accommodation, Support and Services for Seniors

Revera celebrates Canada 150 by saying thank you to people who helped pave the way

MISSISSAUGA, Canada, June 26, 2017 – One hundred and fifty Canadian flags will fly at Revera long term care homes and retirement communities across Canada this week as the company marks Canada’s birthday by saying thank you to people who helped pave the way. Revera, a leading owner, operator and investor in the senior living sector, is using this opportunity to recognize and to celebrate the countless contributions that older adults have made, and continue to make, to Canada.

“We are honoured to serve thousands of people every day who, in ways big and small, have strengthened the fabric of this nation,” said Thomas G. Wellner, President and Chief Executive Officer of Revera Inc. “This is a chance for us to say thank you. As a Canadian-owned and operated company for more than 56 years, celebrating this milestone is important to all of us at Revera.”

Revera’s Canada Gets Better with Age campaign features the company’s Chief Elder Officer, Hazel McCallion, who amongst many accomplishments was the 12-time Mayor of Mississauga, Ontario.

“I am proud to be Canadian, and to be part of commemorating our country’s 150th birthday,” says Ms. McCallion. “I appreciate Revera’s take on this milestone too; I think it’s wonderful to say thank you to the older adults in your life who have spent their lifetimes contributing to this great nation.”

The Revera Canada Gets Better with Age celebrations include local thank you events at all sites, a national advertisement and a special tribute video, which can be seen at Reveraliving.com/Canada150.
